- THERE ARE FACTORS THAT EITHER INCREASE OR DECREASE HAPPINESS IN A SOCIETY, THESE COULD BE POLITICAL, SOCIAL OR ECONOMIC FACTORS AND SOME OF THESE FACTORS INCLUDE:
- 1. FUNCTIONING GOVERNMENT
- 2. AVERAGE DAILY INCOME OF CITIZENS
- 3. INCOME INEQUALITY
- 4. WOMEN IN PARLIAMENT (THE IDEA OF EQUAL PARTICIPATION FOR ALL)
- 5. DEMOCRACY (RIGHTS BY MAJORITY POWER)
- 6. POPULATION

z

IN SUMMARY, THE MOST HAPPIEST COUNTRIES TEND TO HAVE THE HIGHEST FUNCTIONAL GOVERNMENTS, THE HIGHEST AVERAGE DAILY INCOME, THE LEAST INCOME INEQUALITY, THE MOST WOMEN IN PARLIAMENT

- THE LEAST HAPPIEST COUNTRIES HAVE LOWER SCORES ON AVERAGE FOR THE AFOREMENTIONED VARIABLES
- POPULATION AND DEMOCRACY AS VARIABLES DO NOT MASSIVELY AFFECT HAPPINESS ACROSS COUNTRIES AND CONTINENTS AT LARGE BECAUSE IF CONTROLLED, HAPPINESS CAN STILL BE ACHIEVED IRRESPECTIVE OF COUNTRY/ CONTINENT SIZE AND TYPE OF GOVERNMENT
- THE HAPPIEST CONTINENT IN THE WORLD IS EUROPE AND THE LEAST HAPPIEST CONTINENT IN THE WORLD IS AFRICA.

CONCLUSION

- OUR FINDINGS FROM THIS DATA REVEALED THAT THE HAPPIEST COUNTRIES ARE MORE POLITICALLY, SOCIALLY AND ECONOMICALLY PROGRESSIVE
- THIS MEANS FOR COUNTRIES TO MAINTAIN HAPPINESS, CERTAIN VARIABLES MUST BE CONSIDERED. A WORKING GOVERNMENT MUST EXIST, BETTER LIVING STANDARD AND EQUALITY, THESE FACTORS GUARANTEES A HAPPIER SOCIETY.
